

A few years ago, while I wasn't working full time, I did a load of Philosophy evening classes. The essays I wrote for the class coursework are now back online:

Rationalism and Empiricism

Free Will

Dostoevsky and Kafka : Existentialists?

Bakhtin and the World Wide Web

Wittgenstein : Language Games

They are essays in the high school sense rather than the essai sense, but some may find them interesting.
